Notes

1. This Global version of the remuneration scheme applies to new students joining a programme of study for the 2024-25 academic year, excluding recruitment from the Greater China region for King's College London programmes.
2. Commission is calculated on a termly basis as a percentage of net tuition fees invoiced and paid in full, less any overpayments (due to withdrawals, etc). Acceptance fees are not commissionable.
3. No commission will be paid before the student has enrolled on their course.
4. Remuneration statements will be available via the portal from dates published at www.cambridgeeducationgroup.com/about-us/agents-agreement.htm.
5. If tuition fees are received after the cut-off date for calculation of commission (generally a week before the beginning of the statement production period) then the commission due would be included in the following term's statement.
6. New student headcount is subject to registration and continued enrolled status four weeks after the first term start date.
7. Commission for intermitters will be calculated based on their original first term start date.
8. Commission for King's College London programmes will be paid on total tuition fees subject to continued enrolled status four weeks after the start date.
